

KEYMAKER

Keymaker doesn't replace your monitoring tool.

Keymaker replaces the constant buzz of false alarms, the days and hours wasted on manually shifting through alerts, and that sinking feeling of doing after-the-fact damage control for an emergency that could have been prevented in advance.

Keymaker's alerts are smart, customizable, and immediate. No more irrelevant notifications at every hour of the day. No more finding out about problems through upset users. Just a simple, clean interface with exactly the information you need, exactly when you need it. Make your life easier with smart, real time anomaly detection.

KEYMAKER

Key Benefits

Smart notifications

The longer you have Keymaker, the better it gets. As a machine learning algorithm, Keymaker learns to correlate past performances and measurements, fine-tuning an exact definition of what "right" and "wrong" look like for your company.

Adjustable alerts

An engineer wants to know about every tiny discrepancy. A busy CEO doesn't want to be bothered unless something big is going wrong. Each Keymaker user can adjust their anomaly detection settings to their individual needs.

Accessible dashboard

Keymaker is a monitoring tool that works for everyone. Employees have access to personal pages where they can add and personalize the datasets that interest them most, getting rid of unnecessary clutter.

Immediate results

Keymaker alerts you to issues in real time as they happen—before they spiral out of control. When it comes to long-term trends, Keymaker can even predict problems before they happen. That's the magic of machine learning.
